HELP FIGHT HUNGER IN OUR COMMUNITY

September is Hunger Action Month — a time to stand together as a community to raise awareness and take action against hunger. Here in Fairfield County, food insecurity continues to impact thousands of families, and our local food pantries are feeling the strain more than ever. With food costs continuing to rise, the demand for emergency food assistance is growing, while pantry shelves are struggling to keep up.

The Fairfield County Hunger Coalition is urging residents, businesses, and community groups to support our local food pantries this month. Whether it's donating non-perishable food, organizing a food drive, volunteering your time, or making a monetary gift, every action makes a difference.

Together, we can ensure our neighbors in need don't have to choose between food and other basic necessities. Let's turn compassion into action this September and help keep pantry shelves stocked across Fairfield County.

Respectfully,
Jeannette Curtis
